Leaves Illuminated

When I look at the world up close through a camera lens, I discover a startling complexity, an explosion of color, intricate patterns, and even surprising humor. These have become my palette.

Wheel of Life, 2017

My delight is exploring this special world beyond real objects, to find the inner story I can only see through my lens, and to communicate this in my photographs.

Niagara, 2016

I have peeked
up close
at trees,
rocks, water,
dumpsters,
tractors, flowers
and animals
here and gone.

Deep Within, 2016

They tell me a new story
each
time.
