the art of LYUBOV MOMOT

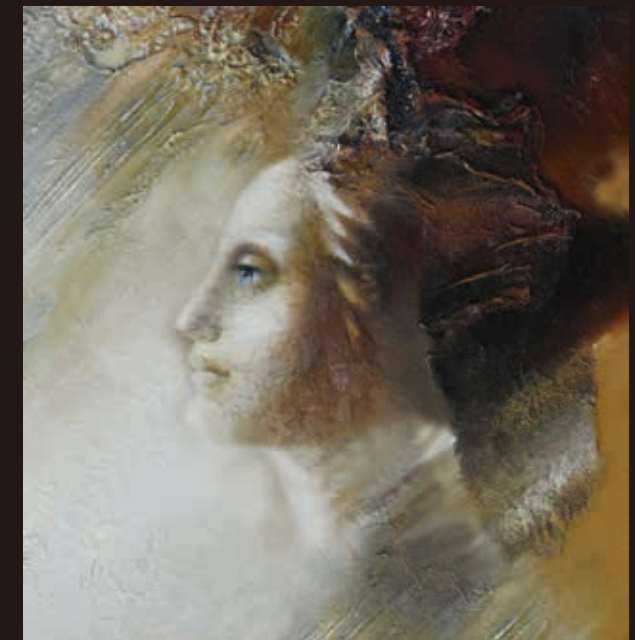

As Pablo Picasso put it, “I begin with an idea and then it becomes something else.” And that’s what I love about painting — improvisation, the thrill of the unknown. Art is the way to the heart of all things. Though I work in a style that involves techniques of Old Masters, I also use all new media and methods, such as mixed media, collage, and assemblage. Juxtaposing different textures, elaborating layer by layer, I try to develop an air of mystery and ambiguity in my painting. As Francis Bacon once said, “The job of the artist is always to deepen the mystery“.
