

“My practice of photographing what catches my eye on long daily walks with my dog has prompted me to think about the continuities, disjuncts, and connections. I am fascinated by the untold stories of these forgotten, discarded, abandoned, or mislaid objects that were once integral to someone’s life. Objects don’t give up their secrets easily, but speak the language of possibility and imagination.”

MJ EDWARDS

