

"I draw, and I paint what I draw. Whether realistic or loosely abstract, my subject matter reflects what I find vital in my immediate surroundings, bearing witness to my interests, passions, and concerns. Twenty-odd years of walking and hiking in the Catskill Mountains inform my nature-based paintings

"Retaining the essential forms of the subject matter, I heighten the colors, narrow the focus, and strengthen the dynamics to encourage viewers to share my experience."

Violet Bog

Yellow Iris

White Weeds, August

Regina Silvers

Tiger Lilies

