

Shoshanna Marie Ahart

... is an American plein-air painter whose exquisitely rendered pastels capture the beauty of life's fleeting moments on both sides of the Atlantic. Wherever she goes, regardless of location, capturing the atmosphere through observation of light and color and their effects on the subjects are at the heart of her work. Shoshanna presents not only a physical location but reveals the personality of a place as the viewer is taken on a sensory journey by the visual images.
